FRANKFORT, April 28, 1869.

At a meeting of the Board of Commissioners appointed by the act of the Kentucky Legislature to build fire-proof public offices at Frankfort, Ky., the following resolution was offered and unaninously adopted, viz: Resolved, That the Commissioners have a high appreciation of the very superior design and plan of a capitol building presented for competition by Messrs, Stanciff & Andrewartha, and are only barred from its adoption by the limited expenditure authorized by the law under which we act, and the apprehension that a building of such cost would not be sanctioned by the Legislature.

New York, May 25. A London special to the Herald says the papers there have striking articles on American matters. The Star, Bright's organ, takes up the theme of the recent leavoring to endanger the peace between the two countries, and argues that while the general society in England favored the South, the laboring classes undoubtedly sympathised with the American Government. It further declares that the general opinion may probably be unfavorable to the Irish Church bill, but is eertainly opposed to an ample and statesmanthe government, and will be established despite of such feeling. One of the Maskers Shot.

From the Memphis Avalanche, yesterday. We learn by passengers who arrived by the 2:30 train on the Louisville road yesterday morning of one of the most daring outrages that has happened in Tennessee for some time, being no less than the surrounding, stopping and searching of the train at Milan, by a band of twenty armed and disguised men, at half-past eight o'clock Saturday night. The affair as near as we can learn, was as follows: Some days ago Mr. Hahn, United States nternal revenue assessor or collector at Milan, arrested a man at McKenzie for running an illicit distillery. Apprehending trouble, he determined to take his prisner to Milan, and brought him aboard of he train for that purpose, putting him in he baggage car in charge of an assistant, egoing in the same car himself.

When the train arrived at Milan the onductor, Mr. Hudson, was seized by one f the men, who forced him at the point of the pistol to precede him through the entire train with his lantern, the masked esperador scrutinizing every passenger closely. In the sleeping-car the same operation was gone through with, aml in ne of the bunks was the Rev. Mr. Police Superintendent Pearne asleep. The masker poked his cocked pistol into his face and roused him, but on eatening sight of his nose, pulled it (the pistol, not the nose) back and passed on. One of he massengers are supported by the passengers of the p e passengers, surmising what the proceire meant, told the masker that if he was ooking for Hahn and his prisoner he would find them in the baggage-car. On this, summoning his other men, the leader of the band went to the baggage to purchase, and special contributions to this car, which was closed, and demanded end be solicited, were passed.

A report from the committee on devotion that a Uniou prayer meeting be held in the out and ran off, being fired at by the whole body as hedid so.
